Dongle crack and dongle emulator for Aladdin HASP4 HASP HL.Dongle.. dongle?? Well, .Q: using awk and getting line number in gawk I have this file: and I would like to get line numbers, which I can do like this in gawk: gawk 'NR == 1' in.txt This prints the line numbers. However, I would like to print the line number AND the name of the file as it is. So I tried this: gawk 'NR == 1' in.txt But this only prints the name of the file, and not the line number. How would I go about doing this? Any help is appreciated. A: To get the name of the file, the easiest way is to use the $0 variable. awk 'NR == 1 { print $0 }' To get the line number you can do awk 'NR == 1 { printf $1 }' A: awk 'NR==1' to get the file name: awk 'NR==1{print $0}' To get the line number: awk 'NR==1{print $1}' Retail at Norfolk Southern Norfolk Southern Railway Company (NS) has retail locations throughout its network of railroads that are generally divided into three major categories: Standard Retail Store (SRS), General Merchandise Store (GMS), and Retail Business Centre (RBC). Each of these types of retail facilities has different rules, regulations, and privileges, and the fleet of vehicles available to these stores is also varied. Standard Retail Store The Standard Retail Store is a general merchandise facility located at the NS yard. Each SRS is generally staffed by a Customer Service Agent who
