You don't actually need a Twitter account to view someone's tweets. You just need to follow them, and be signed into the Twitter web interface. It's annoying, but it's also easier to delete it than to contact Twitter to have it reinstated. I'm sure you could make the page available again, but it's really not that big of a deal. Q: Is the redundant option in the RecyclerView viewholder's layout illegal? Consider the following viewholder
