Category:Companies based in Raleigh, North CarolinaQ: JQuery search box not in form Ok so I have a search box that I'd like to place in a navigation bar of a sidebar. However, the navigation bar is not a form, so this is throwing the little grey "this is not a form" error, and I'd like to know how to fix this. Here is the current code: Search It's probably something super obvious, but if someone could point me in the right direction that'd be great. EDIT: The navigation bar is in a div with the class of.menu-bar A: I found a solution using the following code. In recent years, there has been a dramatic increase in the complexity of individual electronic devices. This has been particularly true in the field of semiconductor devices such as integrated circuit devices. Typically, a single semiconductor die is fabricated with millions of transistor devices, each requiring numerous 2d92ce491b
