I tried lots of times, but nothing changes, i have no idea how to fix that. (the splash screen appears, i can access the apps, but after closing them the screen won't do anything and needs to be shut down). A: In your case (I'm not familiar with this), do the following: Start a new project. In the new project, add a new layout (and a new image for the Splash Screen). In the Splash Screen layout, add a custom component for the WXRoot control (WX will detect this component automatically, and all it's children will be placed in the grid. For more info, read this: How to Get the WXAPI to work with WXRoot). Add the image to the custom component (and the layout that you created) In the Splash Screen layout, drag the image to the root (so that it's the first control, and it's topmost). The image will now show when the form is loaded. Also, you can remove the Splash Screen from the project (Right-click -> Delete) and create a new one.

Laser bar petrifying with wax seals Laser bar petrifying with wax seals is a fast and reliable method of machining wax seals (and other wax products) from a billet or bar of a specific material or composition. The billet, with or without a protective coating, is abraded by the rotating laser beam, then the wax is melted from the billet by the focused beam, either by thermal conduction, or by direct laser heating. The solidified wax is expelled from the billet by the rotating billet. The diameter of the billet is determined by the rotating speed of the billet and the laser power. The overall size of the finished product is determined by the size of the billet. The process is safe for both the operator and the product and is easy to use. The possibility to control the size of the product, and minimize or eliminate waste from billet edges and burrs is one of the advantages of this method. For all the types of seal production the method provides for quick and precise production of wax seals, and most often, they will be much smaller than those produced using other processes. Advantages Laser bar petrifying with wax seals is the most versatile and rapid method of producing both round seals and any other type of wax seals
