He is the principal tenor of Les Arts Florissants, the highly praised chamber opera ensemble based in New York City. He has also worked with numerous other prominent music ensembles and has recorded under the label Erato, including a re-recording of J. S. Bach's Matthäus-Passion as part of the "Great Bach Recordings" series. Marc's primary teachers were Franco Fagioli (countertenor and voice instructor) and Martin Hayward (tenor teacher), with additional training from the bass-baritone William Hurd in the period 1980-1984, during which he also recorded in a recital for the first time, in L'École Française. Later on he studied with Jean-Pierre Marty (countertenor) in the period 1985-1987. Marc's first professional appearance was in 1981 as Tonio in La finta Giuda at the Opéra de Monte-Carlo in Monaco. He had his French debut in a semi-staged production of Mozart's Le Nozze di Figaro in 1986, and his French stage debut as Coll
